Feel free to share and reuse these ideas and words in any way that serves humanity. He also received the Presidential Medal of Freedom presented to him on February 23, 1983 by President Ronald Reagan. It is not going to be easy to lift ourselves out of our current predicament. As was Bucky's wish, this and many of his writings are in the public domain. GRUNCH, which stands for Gross Universal Cash Heist, presents Bucky's predictions for a world economic crisis and eventual bankruptcy of the U.S., precipitated by the (ongoing) ascendency of unchecked corporate dominance over our government. In GRUNCH, Bucky explains that our ability to wiggle our way out from under corporate dominance — including ending fossil fuels in time — will be humanity's final examination as to whether or not we succeed as a species. Despite early failures and tragedies, including his being expelled from Harvard University twice and the death of his four-year-old daughter, Fuller went on to achieve many successes. Besides Harvard, Fuller also attended the U.S. Naval Academy, and was a professor at Southern Illinois University. Now at least we are awake, slapped to life by a great orange beast. Humanity has remarkable capabilities, Bucky said, "To make the world work for 100% of humanity, in the shortest possible time, through spontaneous cooperation, without ecological offense or the disadvantage of anyone." But this can only happen, he said, if we actually focus on this objective. The good news is that for decades it looked like we might sleep right through our big evolutionary test. This book is a challenge to politics and politicians because it advocates looking at life and humanity from an entirely different perspective, and requires we make conscious choices and speak up to demand a new type of governance. Fuller was awarded 28 United States patents and many honorary doctorates. We must make the conscious shift, as a people, to pursue not WEAPONRY but LIVINGRY, in order to make this transition happen. In the form of a modern allegory, Bucky traces the evolution of the multinational giants from the post-World War II military-industrial complex to the current army of abstract legal entities known as the corporate world. He is the author of Synergetics: Explanations in the Geometry of Thinking, a book that discusses the utopic role technology will play in the future. A note about Bucky: Buckminster Fuller (1895-1983) was said by many to be the Leonardo Da Vinci of the 20th century — an interdisciplinary, interaccomodative polymath with a deeply spiritual perspective on human evolution. There are some very interesting reasons why most people do not know about him or his ideas. Look into this group of lawyers working to save our waters, lands, and air, especially if your community is threatened by unwanted corporate projects. He takes on the gigantic corporate megaliths that threaten our continuation as a species by their continued profit-motivated plundering of our resources. -Charles FullerAs an ancestor of Bucky, I continue to engineer, design, and build regenerative production systems for the benefit of humanity. Recent political events bring to mind the lessons of a book Buckminster Fuller wrote the year he died. It outlined his plan to rejuvenate earth through the use of technology.
